At 7:00 AM in the morning approximately 30 people gather in front of the gate in front of the Manos Amigas clinic in La Entrada, Honduras. Karen, the administrator opens the gate and the crowd proceeds to the plastic chairs under the makeshift roof to wait their turn to see the volunteer doctor.

This clinic is for the very poor. It has three rooms and is currently located in an aging municipal building. The doctor is a local Honduran who volunteers to see those who cannot afford medical services.

Several years ago an American team of doctors and dentists ministering in La Entrada saw the need to help the poor, and a vision was birthed. First, teams began to come and do basic care and dentistry, working hand in hand with Honduran volunteers.

Soon, Bob Sumner and Michael Tysowsky, two professionals from the Philadelphia area, had a vision to build a facility where American medical professionals would work along side Hondurans. A building was designed and estimates were gathered. The project proposals

The Manos Amigas Foundation was formed as the Honduran entity that would raise up the local volunteers and run the clinic. Serving at the Crossroads was formed in the U.S. to raise funding and involve medical professionals. Working together to help the poor, both organizations are deeply committed to sharing the message and love of Christ to the people of Honduras through the services they provide.

Thank you volunteers!

In 2009 Bob and Michael visited Tech Serve. The result was a partnership to build this clinic. The building was re-designed to utilize Tech Serve's steel frame/wall panel system. In the Spring of 09' Tech Serve superintendent Larry Zaugg traveled to La Entrada to do the initial site preparation. During this time, the Tech Serve team was busy purchasing, packing, and shipping 5 containers full of building supplies.

After a delay caused by a change in the Honduran government, Tech Serve returned in mid-November to erect the building, and by mid-December most of the roof was completed. On January 4th, Tech Serve superintendents Lloyd and Sandy Osborn returned to the site. In two months over 20 Tech Serve volunteers had erected walls, installed electric, plumbing, windows and doors to complete the building by March 1st, at a material cost of under $450,000.

Darrel Fitts spent many hours going over purchase and punch lists

All of this was made possible with the wonderful support of Manos Amigas, who provided many skilled workers, transportation, and hospitality. They are fueling a massive effort to help their own people by giving, serving, and reaching out to the needy.

What an incredible example of love they have built, welcoming the very poor into this state-of-the-art facility, treating them with dignity and meeting their medical

It is such a blessing to be a part of what God is doing in Honduras. We are continually amazed with all of the dedicated volunteers, prayer partners, and supporters that make Tech Serve successful on projects like this.

A Word From Wes

Hello to all of our TSI friends.

I wish I could bring you on a tour of the projects we are working on so you could see the work that's been accomplished through your prayers, gifts, and volunteer skills.

As I write this, the building of the clinic in Honduras is completed. SATC is waiting for the container with the medical equipment to arrive, to begin using this 9,000 ft facility.

In Uganda the Deaf Ministries church building is being used weekly, and in our next issue we will feature the orphanage/school completed recently.

Pray with us for the needed funding for the Deaf Ministries Bible School in Kampala, Uganda. Pray as well for the rest of

If you would like to get involved please call or email. Volunteers for all trades, full and part time staff, financial and prayer partners needed.
